

Special Security Services For Demanding Situations

Ordinary security solutions are not always enough. Special Security Services are designed for the most demanding situations that our customers might encounter.

Tailormade services

Our services are tailored for each customer and situation. The services are executed according to the requirements of operational surroundings and other related factors, regardless of where we carry out the assignments – in Finland or somewhere else.

Confidentially and inconspicuously

Due to the special nature of our operations are attributes like absolute confidentiality, discretion and understanding of customers' individual requirements strongly emphasized.

Professionally

Our guards are task-specifically trained. They work in civilian clothing suitable for the environment and are adequately equipped for each assignment.

Special Security Services

Anytime anyplace

Anytime anyplace

Executive protection

A variety of security measures intended for protecting the bodily integrity of a named individual or a group of individuals.

Meeting and conference security
